DIGNITY TOOLKIT · BROOKLYN, NY

You are not alone.

What we do, why we do it, and how to find us.

If you are reading this, something hard is happening. We want you to take this page home, so you can read it calmly, whenever you like.

What we do

- We are at the tent on Saturdays with food, clothing and company for families.
- We run a legal clinic of volunteers with a supervising attorney, to help you understand your case and prepare your paperwork.
- We accompany families with loved ones in detention, at visits and while they wait.

Why we do it

- We were born from mutual aid: neighbors, volunteers and allied groups who decided nobody should face this alone.
- We believe dignity does not depend on anyone's immigration status.
- We believe that showing up with consistency and respect is a way of resisting.

Where we come from

- We began by accompanying families during the long waits outside the detention center.
- We have grown with neighbors, volunteers and organizations who joined because someone had to be there.
- We are a New York not-for-profit organization.

What we want for you

- That you understand what is happening, in plain words.
- That you decide what to do and what to share. It is your story.
- That you have accurate information and know who to turn to.
- That you never feel alone in this.

Good to know. Volunteers are not attorneys and do not give legal advice. At the clinic, an attorney supervises. You do not need to tell us your immigration situation to receive food, clothing or company. Be wary of anyone who promises results.

Whenever you are ready, we are here

1 · LEGAL QUESTIONS

Call Dignity Toolkit

Your case, a hearing, a paper you don't understand. Call before you sign or pay anything.

Call or text:

(561) 445-6141

2 · OTHER NEEDS

Food, clothing, support

Talk to any volunteer at the tent, or write to us.

info@dignitytoolkit.org

dignitytoolkit.org

3 · WEEKLY NEWS

WhatsApp group

One update a week about what is happening. It is voluntary and you can leave any time.

Scan with your phone camera to join:

Emergency: 911. In emotional crisis, call or text 988 (press 2 for Spanish).

With love and respect, Dignity Toolkit